Tasting notes

Another gorgeously proportioned and fragrant Pinot from this brilliant cooler part of South Africa. Bright red fruits burst from the glass with raspberry, cherry and damson, undercut with delicate earthy spice. Vivacious and mouthfilling with red fruits to the fore once again, succulent and pure with a hint of the hedgerow, a fine tannic frame and sleek acid push to the finish. L&S (Sep 2024)

Moya Meaker

Canadian businessman and former owner of Bordeaux's Chateau Gaby, David Curl married South African born Genevieve Hamilton-Brown which ultimately led them to Elgin where they acquired a farm called Habibi, planted mainly to apples but also including small parcels of Pinot Noir and Shiraz, the resulting wines named after Genevieve's late mother Moya Meaker, who was crowned Miss South Africa in 1959.
